

cardinality

The actual or permitted number of elements in a set or other grouping.

Notes

- Modeling rules include constraints on the minimum and maximum cardinality of particular attributes or associations between classes.

Example

- A cardinality of $[1..5]$ means that all clinical meanings that satisfy the given expression constraint must have at least one and at most five attributes, that match the given attribute criteria.

Related Links

- Cardinality