normal form transformation

Refers to the process of generating a normal form normal form.

A SNOMED CT expression in which none of the referenced concepts are fully defined and where there is no redundancy or duplication of meaning.