

CRS Technical Documentation

This section provides some of the documentation which describes the SNOMED CT Content Request Service technical solution, including some of the requirements that have been used during its development.

For further information, or access to the open source code repositories, please get in touch with techsupport@snomed.org.