Additional Notes

This is a maintenance release for SCA Managed Service, bringing in navigational updates from the International release of SCA for user interface consistency as well as issue fixes and improvements from author feedback.

These changes include standardisation of the application routing so that the Authoring Platform user interface now runs as the default on the domain root, with the integrated TS Browser moved to the `/browser` relative path. This means old bookmarks which include `/sca` as the relative path for the Authoring Platform need to be updated (to remove the `/sca` part of the path):
