Hi Elaine,

I have a request with the IHTSDO about the concept above. My argument is that the meaning is too narrow as all sub-concepts are activities using the toilet. I think toileting is a broader term that includes dressing, grooming etc.

The answer from Penni is:

"Here in the US it is used in that context, but I think in the UK and perhaps Denmark is has a broader meaning as you point out. Do you have a reference that would have a definition that might be more International?"

I do not have the reference that she is asking for, but thought that you might have or that you are able to support the broader meaning of the concept in which case we probably will need a concept to express this.

Best wishes,
Camilla
