

5.1. Order Search Results Rationally

This section concerns the rational ordering of search results. When developing browsers and search embedded functionality within clinical applications, careful consideration must be taken in specifying the prioritization of search results, as adopting many of the recommended techniques below may compromise the speed of search.